

Who will the Garden serve?

- Master Gardener Volunteers will utilize the space to further hone their gardening skills and to share that knowledge with the public through workshops and demonstrations.
- Schools and youth-serving organizations will be invited to utilize the space to help children learn and grow by interacting with the natural environment.
- Individuals, families, and groups can visit the garden to harmonize with nature and gain inspiration for enhancing their home landscapes.
- Community organizations and businesses will benefit from a conveniently-located outdoor venue for meetings and events.
- Persons with disabilities are afforded easy access to greenspace.
- A large balcony at The LeGrand Center overlooks the space, enticing convention center users to utilize that meeting space and to visit the Garden during breaks.
- Cleveland Community College students, faculty, and staff will benefit from improved campus connectivity and an outdoor space for teaching, studying, socializing, and networking.

Learn. Grow. Share.

How can you help?

The Garden will be developed in phases as funds permit. You can help by making a tax-deductible contribution to support Garden construction and long-term maintenance.
